The INLOGIX team member, from the president on down were responsive, informative, and professional in every respect. They made appointments to suit the schedule of a working professional, provided results exactly when they promised to, and laid out their findings and recommendations in a way that a homeowner can readily follow. The report from INLOGIX played a major role in my comfort level when dealing with insurance and with the various contractors. I would highly recommend their services.

Thank you so much David for coming by on Saturday. I learned a lot. I stopped by Home Depot Sunday AM and got a lot of the things you said I needed (steel braided hoses, air filters, etc.) I re-wrapped the line to the heat pump and AC while changing the filters and the difference is huge upstairs... I mean unbelievable.

I would like to thank you for having the most comprehensive reports. It makes my inspection so much easier, if they got much better I wouldn't even need to do an inspection at all, I could do my estimate directly from your reports.
